USA - Author's 21 Day Challenge provides complete guidelines to aspiring authors. The company was founded by Ann McIndoo, a renowned writer from the USA. Ann is among the top-rated writers of her era. She aims to transfer her knowledge and expertise to all those who want to quickly learn and grow. And for that, she created her Author's 21 Day Challenge, a proven program to get your book out of your head.

The main aim of Author's 21 Day Challenge is to make new authors ready to publish their book. The coaching sessions are also suitable for those starting their writing journey. Ann guides and mentors her students with her highly tested, proven and successful book-writing process.

The 21 Day Challenge is broken down into three parts. The first step is creating the structure for the book. This step is the most important one. Ann guides her students on how they can quickly and easily organize their thoughts about their book. She makes this tedious process very simple and easy to follow. The second step is talking the book – not writing it. Ann demonstrates how she was able to help her authors produce more than 1,600 books using this technique.

Talking about how she helps people write their books, Ann said: “Hello! I'm Ann McIndoo, The Author's Coach. I will help you get your book out of your head and a manuscript into your hands. Quick and easy, my Author's 21 Day Challenge program will guide you through my wildly successful process, which has produced more than 1,637 books to date! Ready to write your book? Let me help you achieve your book-writing goals.”
